

Baden-Württemberg STIPENDIUM[®]

A program of the Landesstiftung Baden-Württemberg promoting the international exchange of students and vocationally qualified people.

The Baden-Württemberg-STIPENDIUM (Baden-Württemberg Scholarship) program supports the international and reciprocal exchange of qualified students and vocationally qualified people.

Reciprocity forms a key element of the program and accommodates two groups of participants: scholarship recipients who spend some time abroad and foreign scholarship recipients who study in Baden-Württemberg. The scholarship program thus contributes to the global networking of people associated with Baden-Württemberg.

Baden-Württemberg STIPENDIUM®

The Baden-Württemberg-STIPENDIUM program encompasses an entire “family” of programs and is subdivided into:

- a program for university students
- a program for vocationally qualified people – students of Meisterschulen and technical school students
- a program for secondary school students, particularly for an exchange with Eastern European countries

In addition, the program also includes:

- the “Walter-Hallstein-Programm” for Europe-related internships and periods of study
- scholarships for an exchange with the Andrassy Gyula German-speaking University Budapest
- scholarships for workshops for film production of students enrolled in the Baden-Württemberg Film Academy (“Workshop Los Angeles”)

Nearly 1,000 scholarships are awarded every academic year. Approximately 4,000 young people have already received the Baden-Württemberg-STIPENDIUM.

The Baden-Württemberg-STIPENDIUM program has greatly enhanced the possibilities for international cooperation of both public and private educational institutions in Baden-Württemberg. As a result, it makes an important contribution to Baden-Württemberg’s profile in the international competition for intelligent minds and future executives.
